HIGHLIGHTS

- > Multi-management structure giving access to specialized and complementary fund managers.
- > Active management with a relative-performance objective based on style factors.
- > Investments in international equities issued by companies that operate in the sectors of gold mining (at least two-thirds of the portfolio), other precious metals, and gemstones.

RISKS INVOLVED

- > Gold prices may at times fluctuate considerably, resulting in high level of volatility for gold companies, especially in a portfolio with a small to mid cap bias.

Fund Management

- > Founded in 1796, Lombard Odier Darier Hentsch & Cie is the oldest house of private bankers in Geneva and one of the largest in Switzerland and in Europe.
- > A Lombard Odier team, dedicated to both fund research and commodity multi-management concepts, is responsible for the Fund managers' selection and allocation.

Investment Approach

- > The Fund aims to outperform the FTSE Gold Mines Index on a risk-adjusted basis.
- > The team selects external managers and allocates the assets. These managers are currently J. Foster from Van Eck Global, J. Hathaway from Tocqueville, and W. Wehrli, R. Werthmüller and M. Gugerli from Konwave.
- > Tactical adjustments are implemented to exploit market opportunities, depending on the manager's style, favoring more aggressive or defensive strategies, or market capitalization.
- > The stock universe at the managers' disposal consists of international equities issued by companies operating in the sectors of gold mining (at least two-thirds of the portfolio), other precious metals, and gemstones.
- > Stock selection is at the manager's discretion.

Selection Process

- > The universe of managers is screened using proprietary quantitative filters based on specific risk-return measures over several time horizons.
- > The subset of eligible managers is subject to in-depth qualitative assessments. Strong emphasis is given to the quality and stability of the investment process.
- > A disciplined and team-based approach leads to the final selection and investment decisions.

Portfolio Construction and Risk Management

- > The number of managers included is a function of their coverage universe, investment philosophy, risk/reward profile and diversification potential.
- > The allocation results from the top-down assessments (macro/micro fundamentals, relative valuations, technicals) and from the managers' specificities.
- > Risk factors are monitored continuously at the stock and manager levels using internally developed tools and external softwares (Barra).
- > Investment inconsistencies and poor performance are factors that may trigger the exclusion of a manager.
- > The Fund is systematically hedged between 60% and 80% against currency risk.

Risks

Credit risk: The risk of loss due a debtor's non-payment of a loan or other obligation (either the principal or interest or both).

Market risk: The risk that the value of an investment will decrease due to moves in market factors such as exchange rate, interest rate, equity or volatility.

Volatility risk: The likelihood of fluctuations in prices, rates or currencies quoted on different markets. As market volatility increases so does the volatility of the Net Asset Value per Share.

Volatility of financial derivative instruments: A small movement in the price of the underlying security, index, interest rate or currency may result in a substantial movement in the price of the financial derivative instrument. Investment in financial derivative instruments may result in losses in excess of the amount invested.

Interest rate risk: The risk that the value of an investment will decrease, due to the variability of interest rates. When interest rates tend to rise, the value of debt securities tend to fall, as does the Net Asset Value per Share of the Sub-Funds invested in debt securities.

Exchange rate risk: The risk that the value of assets in foreign currencies will decrease, as will the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund, due to unfavorable exchange rates.

A detailed description of the fund risks can be found in the prospectus.
